

Interview with Italo Calvino

We: Hi, can you take a few minutes? We would like to ask you a few questions.

Him: Sure, let's get started right away!

We: What are his works?

Him: Well I've written a lot during my life, so I'll just mention a few: The Cosmicomics, Under the Jaguar Sun, You with Zero, The Path of Spider's Nests, The Halved Viscount, The Non-existent Knight, Marcovaldo, The Rampant Baron , The Invisible Cities.

We: Wow, there are so many !!!

Him: Well they're not even half of all my works... modestly

We: Excellent! We were intrigued by the name of the first work he mentioned, do you want to talk about it?

Him: With great pleasure, of course! "Le cosmicomiche" is a collection of 12 fictional stories written between 1963-1964. They deal with humorous elements concerning the universe, space, time and evolution. The stories in this book are the fruit of Calvino's imagination but they are based. even on very specific theories with scientific references.

We: All very clear! I think now they will all be closed ...

Him: Well it was a pleasure, but now I have to leave you

We: Oh sure, it was for us too!
